The original bill, once passed by the Legislature, is now before the House for reenactment.

War With China? Why?
What Would It Cost?
Money Involved? Pay It
Let Russia Have China

By Arthur Brisbane

OUR MILITARY and naval men in China were that government that more serious trouble is coming. Hordes of Chinese workers, well armed, are eager to storm the European settlement at Shanghai and wipe out foreigners.
This country has sent more men, but only a tiny detachment compared with crowds that China can throw into a conflict.

WHAT KIND of war should we have with China, if we were foolish enough to begin a war there, in defense of American dollars?
Two or three million men would be a great force in the big war. Remember that China has SIXTY-TWO MILLION MEN OF FIGHTING AGE. She could actually produce an army equal in size to ours.

MOVE TO BAR 'PEACHES' FROM STAGE IN BOSTON

Steps were taken today to prevent "Peaches" Browning from appearing on the stage in Boston when Councilman Frederick E. Dowling introduced an order in Council, which, if passed, will close Boston theatres to the child-wife of the middle-aged New York rector.

A bill providing for a $25,000,000 extension of rapid transit service on the Boston Elevated was reported favorably today by the legislative committee on street railways and metropolitan affairs, sitting today.

Chinese Call for Reprisals Only Against British

Shanghai, March 28 (A.P.)—Leaflets and handbills passed about today by agitators in Shanghai fix responsibility for the Nanking incident on the British and make no mention of Americans.

PROTECT HUNDREDS IN SHANGHAI BARRICADES

By International News Service

Abandoning millions of dollars' worth of property, much of which has been the work of a lifetime, Americans and other foreigners are rapidly evacuating the Nationalist controlled Yangtze valley of China. The great wave of anti-foreign sentiment continues to sweep through China, with Shanghai as the sole safe refuge for foreigners.

M'LAUGHLIN ON STAND GIVES PETER KING 'LIE'

Taking the stand today in his own defense in Middlesex Superior Court Peter J. McLaughlin gave the lie to Peter V. King, denied being over set at the Walham car barn holdup and told of being beaten with a base by New York police in a "third degree" session.

McLaughlin, in his testimony, also stated that Peter King's sister had collected the reward for apprehension of the carbarn robbers, a matter that has been the subject of much speculation.

While his mother and three sisters, garbed in deep mourning, listened intently, McLaughlin, charged with the murder of James Ferman, watchman at the carbarn, told of refusing to go on the holdup after John J. Devereaux had succeeded in getting drunk and King, but failed once in an attempt to secure a car.

DEVEREAUX DRUNK, HE SAYS.
"This is a fine state of affairs," he's going out on a holdup and Devereaux is drunk and you can't get a car.

STATE TO TIP PUBLIC ON QUALITY OF BOOZE

Because the death rate from alcoholism has increased more than 50 per cent since 1920, the State Department, or Health, through Commissioner Dr. George H. Bigelow, announced today the start of what practically will be a liquor information service.

"It is a function of a health department to advise the public as to the character of material upon the market which may be injurious to health," said Commissioner Bigelow in the announcement.

Liquor samples seized by the police form the basis of the health department tests, he said, and experiments will be carried out in the laboratory.

The Nationalists are pressing demands that the international settlement in Shanghai be turned over to them, a mass meeting of thousands having voiced this demand. The foreigners in Shanghai are apprehensive, but it is believed the forces there, in barricades, are sufficient to protect them.

REFUGEES SUFFER

Refugees in Shanghai tell of horrible indignities suffered, and are arriving battered and suffering from exposure, many of them improperly clad and without proper food.

The British Foreign Office states that order has been established in the Chinese city in Shanghai and no immediate attack from the Nationalists is feared.

SNYDER, DYING, LEARNED WIFE WAS UNFAITHFUL

DEDDHAM FIRE SCENE WHERE

COUNTESS FIRED SHOT AS DE TRAFFORD HUGGED HER

EXPIRING, SEES HER STRIKE FINAL BLOW

New York, March 28 (A.P.)—Albert Snyder, magazine art editor, for whose murder his wife Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray were first degree murder charges, died with the knowledge that she was unfaithful, district attorney Newcombe of Queens said today.

Snyder learned of her unfaithfulness, the district attorney said, in his last moment of consciousness. He gave no further details.

In their alleged confession Mrs. Snyder and Gray said Snyder had been struck on the head with a heavy ash weight as he was asleep. Opening his eyes and struggling to help himself, he saw standing over him a strange man he had never seen before and his wife.

According to Gray's confession Snyder partly arose and grappled with him. During this moment, in a flash, Mrs. Snyder is alleged to have grabbed the weight and struck the blow which made her husband senseless.

A legal battle for the custody of six-year-old Lorraine Snyder was in prospect today between relatives of her imprisoned mother and her murdered father.

The child still believing her mother in a hospital instead of imprisoned in Queens County Jail at Long Island city, is in the care of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Brown, mother of the prisoner.

FIRE ON 'YANKS' IN NICARAGUA

Washington, March 28 (I.N.S.)—Two members of the American patrol at Leon, Nicaragua, were fired upon by natives, Rear Admiral Latham, commander of the American occupational force, reported to the Navy Department today.

When the patrol returned the fire, the natives dropped their guns and ran.

Latham said a Marine plane, flying between Dera and Matagalpa, was struck by bullets fired by a native. Damage apparently was slight.

FATHER AND 2 GIRLS SAVED IN DEDHAM

A father and two daughters, one a school teacher and the other a Wellesley College student, were saved from death by a policeman today when flames swept through a three-story wooden block in East Dedham. Two alarms were sounded. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

John A. Hirsch, owner of the building, and his two daughters, Robina, twenty, Wellesley girl, and Marguerite, maiden school teacher, were aroused from sleep by Patrolman R. G. Campbell, who was forced to break his way through two doors to reach their apartment.

All were partially overcome by smoke when Campbell reached them. He was assisted in directing them to safety by John Hathaway, a neighbor.

Helen and Arthur McLellan, living next door, were also driven out by the fire.

After sounding an alarm, Campbell crashed his way through the outer door leading to the Hirsch apartment and then crawled up a flight of stairs. Again he was obliged to batter down a door to get inside and awaken the three sleepers. Hathaway followed Campbell up and, between them, they got the trio out.

BAN ON CANADA MILK OF SLIGHT EFFECT IN N. E.

By Associated Press.
The embargo which has been placed on the importation of milk and cream from Canada because of typhoid fever epidemic in Montreal is not likely to have any serious effect on the supply in New England and New York markets, officials of the New England Milk Producers' Association said today.

The amount of milk brought in is a small percentage of the total marketed in Boston, New York and other cities. Cream is more important, particularly as there has been somewhat of a shortage of supply in New England for three or four months. This is the season, however, when production normally increases.

In March, 1928, cream imported into Boston from Canada amounted to 12,000 quarts or about nine per cent of the total supply received here. In addition there was landed across the border to points in Vermont customs district 208,000 quarts of cream which found its way to various New England centers.

'Leak' in Water Main Is Only a Little Bubbling Spring

The "leak" in the water main on Newport avenue, opposite Pope's Hill street, which has caused some 60 telephone complaints in the last three weeks, is nothing else but a clear and bubbling spring, according to the investigators of the city water department.

They drew off some of the water, which bubbled up beside a main hole, and found it clear and sweet and fit to drink.

Enterprising youths of the neighborhood are debating the possibilities of going into business, bottling and selling the water.

SHOT DEAD

Pawtucket, R. I., March 25 (A.P.)—Mrs. Mary Stein, 21, wife of Michael Stein and mother of two small children, was shot and killed in the kitchen of her home today as she was preparing a breakfast for her husband and two children. The police are searching for John Stein, a former boarder, who is accused of the shooting. Mrs. Stein told the police she was surprised when Michael Stein, who was in the kitchen at the time, shot her. She said she had entered the home by using a key to a store on the street floor.

A bullet from a .25 caliber pistol passed through the woman's left side. Dr. Charles H. Sweet, assistant police surgeon, said an autopsy would be performed this afternoon. Five years ago when Mrs. Stein was a boarder at the Stein home, she said, she gave the family some trouble by attempting to force her attention on Mrs. Stein and declared he would shoot her if she refused to run away with him. Mrs. Stein was given a jail sentence for refusing to run.

For the last three weeks Mrs. Stein had been living alone in the Stein home, but she had a room at the home of a neighbor.

Means Something

The United States Food Standards define "Breakfast" cocoa as cocoa containing not less than 22 per cent of cocoa butter. Many cheap cocoas (if rich cannot be labeled "Breakfast" Cocoa) contain not more than 14 per cent or 15 per cent of butter. Baker's Breakfast Cocoa contains not less than 26 per cent of cocoa butter, almost five-fifths more than Government requirement. The phrase Baker's Breakfast Cocoa means a pure, delicious cocoa of high quality and possessing a considerable amount of nourishment.

know, to hear about this lesson in cake decorating recently given in the Martha Lee Kitchen by Mr. Camille Den Doven, former chef to the King of the Belgians, now culinary adviser to a tropical fruit company. Mr. Den Doven brought up a small round pound cake to be decorated. I'm going to make it my special business to cook the recipe for this later, for it was one of the finest grained cakes I've ever met on land or sea.

First the unbeaten white of an egg was dropped into a bowl with two tablespoons of cold water and a few drops of lemon juice. Then enough confectioners' sugar was added to make the frosting of the right consistency to spread. The cake was placed on a cake cooler which in turn was placed over a large pan. The frosting was poured into the center of the cake, and with one quick stroke of a broad spatula, Mr. Den Doven spread it over the entire top surface and left it to drip of its own accord down the sides of the cake. This left a satin smooth icing ready to be decorated.

Next a much thicker frosting was made with an unbeaten egg white, a few drops of lemon juice and confectioners' sugar. This was stirred and beaten with a spoon until it was very smooth and firm. It must, of course, have much more body than the foundation frosting. The frosting was piped through a simple wax paper cornucopia. Several of these are made by cutting triangular pieces of wax paper with the long side of the triangle one and a half the length of one of the sides. Hold this paper triangle in your hands with the long side between the first finger and thumb of the left hand. Catch the upper corner of the triangle between your right hand and commence to make the cornucopia, twisting it firmly so that the point held by your left hand is tightly closed.

The last corner is turned over to hold the cornucopia together, or it could be pinned by an amateur. Partially fill the cornucopia with the decorating frosting and tuck in the top. Then cut off a little piece of the tip of the cornucopia so that there is a tiny opening for the frosting to come through. Then, using the cornucopia as you would a pencil and steadying your right wrist with your left hand, start to decorate your cake. HER SPECIAL "KNACK" OF MIXING

—a recipe now used by more women than any other in history

What woman can resist trying a new recipe that holds promise of better results? Some new flavor—new moments of pleasure for her family?

American women are noted throughout the world for their constant interest in new recipes. And today one old-time recipe has won more users than any other ever recorded.

Years ago no other cook could match the flavor of those light, fragrant pancakes which Aunt Jimima served her master and his guests. She refused to reveal to a soul her "knack" of mixing ingredients. No one on the other plantations could learn her secret.

Today her own recipe—her own ingredients just as she proportioned them are used by millions of women. They come ready-mixed in Aunt Jimima Pancake Flour. Only in this way is it possible to have tender golden-brown pancakes with that special flavor which won fame—on the plantations long ago.

Watch your husband's eyes light up when he first tastes Aunt Jimima's cakes. Plan now to test her recipe—ready-mixed. Your grocer has Aunt Jimima Pancake Flour and her Prepared Buckwheat Flour.

Coupons for valuable premiums come in every Aunt Jimima package.

—“real custom

We were in the inspection room of Scott & Company the other day when a number of new Spring Suits, Topcoats and Tuxedos came in from the workrooms.

Critical inspection brought forth nothing but admiration—“real custom stuff” was the remark that best expressed our opinion—

“Nowhere else in the world can one buy such custom tailoring, ready-to-wear,” said an expert who has spent his life in the clothing trade at home and abroad—

Trade Developments Mixed; Retail Prices Explained

By R. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, March 28.—The retail trade is the answer to the puzzle? Almost every week official or authoritative figures show that our railroads are carrying a record-breaking volume of traffic, that bank closings are extraordinary, that many divisions have been increased, that the floor is well covered at retail prices, and that the evidence of prosperity is all unopposed and all encouraging.

R. C. Forbes.

Yet, we frequently read that "retail trade" is poor at best, and very satisfactory. Both Duns and Bradstreet's talk soberly about retail trade in their latest surveys, and the end of last week the largest dry goods store in America said: "Our present wholesale distribution of dry goods failed to reach either the weekly volume or that of the same week a year ago. There were fewer customers in the market, often during the same week of 1926."

What can be the explanation for these conflicting evidences of a better national activity and, at the same time, so many complaints from merchants?

As I read the situation, one important reason is that the retail trade which has been taken place in the spending of the family income.

Not so long ago the expenditures of the great majority of the families were confined to food, clothing and shelter. Now, however, the expenditures of the family income are divided into many more categories.

News Policy Praised

Hearst Newspapers Congratulated by Citizens' Committee for Wholesome Standards

Editor Boston Evening American:
We who are members of a citizens' committee formed for the purpose of co-operating with local newspapers, wherever possible, for better and cleaner news, have read with great interest and considerable satisfaction your response to the letter which we sent to Boston publishers several weeks ago.

Especially are we impressed with your closing statements: "We know the people of New England. We know they want the news—all the news—and want it clean. That is what we propose to give them."

This seems to us hopeful and is exactly the kind of a note which tunes in with our deepest desires and hopes for a better day to come when the newspapers will work frankly and fearlessly with other forces striving to build a civilization here in New England wholesome in every department of life.

You will find the thousands of parents, teachers, clubwomen, business men, churches and students who signed the publishers' letter ready to support and encourage in every possible way the newspaper which carries out these sentiments which you so aptly express.

Those of us who have dealt with New England citizenship in every phase are absolutely sure that the best and only the best is wanted. This does not mean that cheap shows, cheap literature, cheap talk to the market, but we maintain the satisfaction gained from the low, sensational and vulgar, is short lived, and eventually depressing.

While we admit that some of our young people are avid readers of stories tending to salacious and antisocial behavior, we are absolutely certain that with thought and intelligence on the part of newspaper staffs all such material can be eliminated with no real financial loss.

If, however, you believe that the featuring of such a trial as the Browning trial in large headlines and on the front pages is beneficial to public morals and higher standards of marital living, we must disagree, even with the elimination of disgusting details.

Your plan as expressed in your editorial has our hearty congratulations, and if it does not meet with success the New England people are not what we believe them to be.

Our committee will watch with keen interest your publications, and various members will, if you care to have them, write their criticisms from time to time, that you may know when we especially approve, or when we doubt the wisdom of other news and the way it is treated. Again let us wish you unqualified success in your determination to give clean and wholesome news to the people of New England.

(Signed.)
Sanford Bates, Commissioner of Corrections.
Mrs. Elizabeth W. Pigeon, President Boston Federation of Women's Clubs.
Dr. Robert Watson, President Massachusetts Federation of Churches.
Emily M. Woodbury, President Boston Home and School Association.

The signers are a sub-committee of a larger citizens' committee engaged in co-operating with Boston news papers for better and cleaner news.

Congress the Lawbreaker

A Ring Bootlegs Seats to Save Jobs of a Few Representatives Who Would Be Ousted by Reapportionment

Every year the sessions of Congress resound with thunders against lawbreakers, especially bootleggers and their customers.

From Senator Borah, of Idaho, down to Representative Ephaw, of Georgia, they grate about the downfall of the Republic if citizens continue to insist on getting their glass of beer.

Meanwhile, Congress itself is the prize lawbreaker of the country. It tramples on the Constitution of the United States, openly, flagrantly, and has done so for seven years.

The Constitution orders Congress to redistribute the seats in the House of Representatives among the States every ten years, after the census, so that every State shall have "Representatives in proportion to its numbers."

The last census was in 1920, but Congress has refused to reapportion since 1910. So States are represented not according to their population in 1920, but according to their population in 1910, seventeen years ago.

If Congress had obeyed the law there would be twelve more seats distributed among California, Michigan, Ohio, Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington. There would be twelve fewer seats distributed among Missouri, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont.

So each session when Congress refuses to reapportion, it steals twelve seats from the first group of eight States (California, Michigan, etc.), and presents these twelve seats to the second group of eleven States (Missouri, Indiana, etc.).

California, Michigan, Ohio and the other five wronged States have no redress, because the framers of the Constitution did not dream that it would be necessary to provide for forcing CONGRESS to obey the highest law of the land.

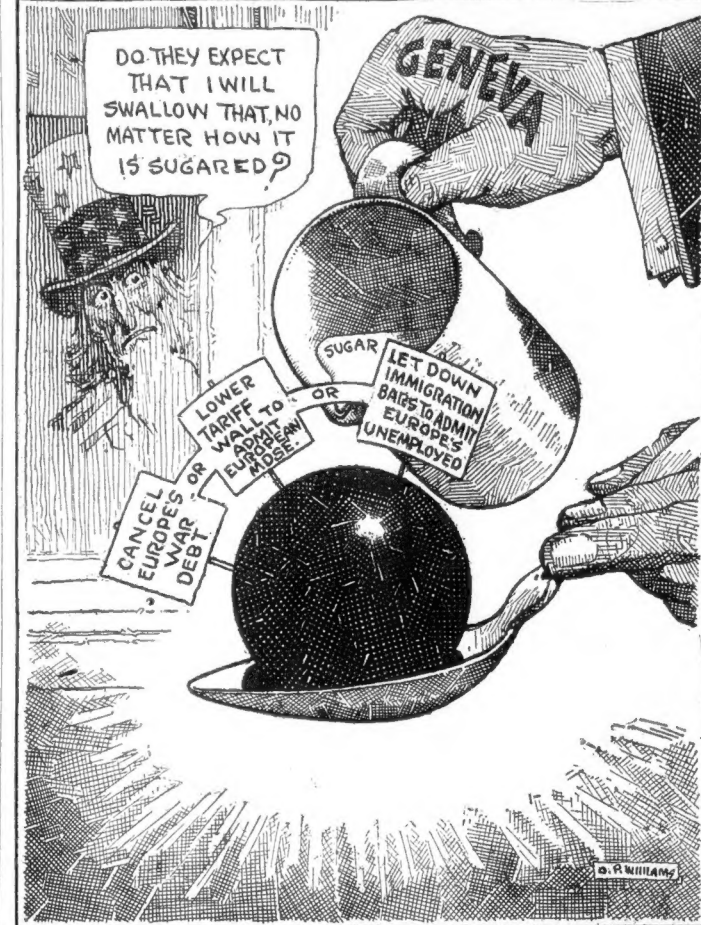

This unprecedented gain in population exceeds the whole population of Ohio in 1910, which entitled Ohio to twenty-two seats in Congress.

No bootlegging ring in the United States can compare in lawlessness with the Congressional ring that bootlegs seats in Congress for the sake of preserving the $10,000-a-year salaries of a few Representatives who would be thrown out of jobs by reapportionment.

We do not expect bootleggers of liquor to be law-abiding. These Congressmen, on the contrary, get their pay for swatting to uphold the law of the land.

Sugaring the Pill

By O. P. Williams

THE United States will be officially represented at an International Economic Conference, assembled in May in Geneva by the League of Nations.

The Geneva meeting has been preceded by a series of smaller economic conferences in London. European business leaders have met with the avowed principal object "to protect Europe against American economic dominance."

The United States has been suggested as the burden-bearer of every "economic" plan for "world betterment" which we have seen come out of Europe.

We are either to remit Europe's debts, or lower our tariff barriers so they can sell us more goods, or take down our immigration bars so they can send us their unemployed. The world is to be "bettered" at the expense of the American taxpayer, the American manufacturer and the American laborer. It will be interesting to watch them sugar the pill at the Geneva conference.

SALES TAX WOULD BE GOOD THING

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A MAN is supposed to have a right to his property. When he owns a thing he is supposed to have control of it and enjoy the usufruct of it.

The United States is prepared to go to war to enforce this grand and glorious principle upon foreign nations.

This sounds very pretty, but the United States is not going into this business with clean hands. It is confiscating property and robbing its own citizens at home and furnishing them no reasonable compensation.

Suits have recently been instituted against Henry Ford and Charlie Chaplin and goodness knows how many other people for taxes running way back to 1919 or so. These people made returns at the time upon their property that was taxable and swore to them. The returns were accepted by the government and now four or five years after the whole thing is over the government comes along and says that these gentlemen did not adhere to the truth in their statements.

The income tax system is a tremendous obstacle in the way of prosperity. It was conceived on the Robin Hood theory of government, a theory as old as Alexander the Great, and that theory is that government being all powerful should pounce upon rich men and take away their property under any pretext.

A simple sales tax levied equally upon all sales would accomplish a good purpose laying the burden equally upon all people and not be oppressive.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

"THREE Young Men" have written me a smart letter. It took them a whole evening to do it and you can see they're proud of their job.

They find this column extremely amusing. In fact, they're very little save themselves that they don't find amusing.

Love—marriage—families—politics—nations—patriotism—churches—religion—the whole human race and God, Inc.—it all drives these Three Young Men into stitches of merriment.

"What fools men are, to believe in themselves or anything else! Life is as senseless as a pool of slime and we're no more important than the bugs that swim the surface. There is no purpose in it all," cry these three cynics.

And they think they're said a mouthful. They have a mouthful of nonsense.

How cheap and silly is cynicism, and what depths of ignorance it reveals! Let's admit that life is no more important than a pool of slime and men no better than bugs.

Mystery in Slime.

Can you imagine anything more marvelous or mysterious than a pool of slime?

What purpose does a pool of slime serve? None, that you or I can see. To us it is a disgusting emblem of stagnation without a single drop of life in it. A disgusting emblem of stagnant winter billions of lives have their being. One drop of that

A Shepherdess in Israel

Who Can Say This Experiment Won't Succeed?

A LITTLE ZIONIST SHEPHERDESS ON THE SHORE OF LAKE TIBERIAS.

In ancient days, long centuries ago, sheep and goats grazed on the shores of this lake in Palestine.

Thanks to Zionism, and largely to money contributed by American Jews, the flocks are renewed, and today the little shepherdess, guarding her sheep on the shores of the historic lake, does her work more comfortably and leads a happier life than she could have known in the old days.

And the sheep are pedigreed sheep, the best British strains, better than was known when Abraham now dwells on his flocks and Job so patiently endured the wiping out of everything that he had excepting his life.

These sheep provide better mutton and more of it, more and better wool than the old sheep. And the Assyrian or Arab can no longer come down "like the wolf on the fold," for Britain has the Palestine mandate and won't let him.

The effort of Zionists to re-establish the Jewish people in their ancient home, Palestine, is called by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, former president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, "unfortunate and visionary."

Dr. Pritchett says it is IMPOSSIBLE to settle a million Jews in Palestine without dispersing the Arab population. That is not necessarily true, for Arabs and Zionists now dwell side by side amicably. But in any case, the Jews that lived in Palestine a thousand years before the beginning of our era were dispersed. If they choose to go back, SOME of them, to re-establish their nation, why should anybody discourage the idea?

Factories have been established in Palestine; malaria there, the great danger in many ancient countries, is being fought and conquered; good hotels are built in the city of Jerusalem; water supply and electric light attended to.

If a million Jews scattered over the world would like to live on or near the shore of this ancient lake, dreaming of old days, like this little girl, why should they not realize their plan?

BOSTON DAY BY DAY

HULK EDWARD DANA, general manager of the BOSTON ELEVATOR, is carrying a thin dime in his pocket for some person unknown.

The nation approached one of the new turnstiles at the NORTH STATION, bearing a huge package. He fought and conquered; good hotels are built in the city of Jerusalem; water supply and electric light attended to.

If a million Jews scattered over the world would like to live on or near the shore of this ancient lake, dreaming of old days, like this little girl, why should they not realize their plan?

Don't point against the grain, girls. Charming comment of a practical decorator who observes a charming miss in a SUMMER STREET window demonstrating a new paint, brushing the color on the legs of a chair cross-wise instead of with the grain of the wood.

GIDDAP Who knows where to buy a light driving harness? There's one hanging in a HIGH STREET window, but a new paint, brushing the color on the legs of a chair cross-wise instead of with the grain of the wood.
